Job Application Profile

I am actively seeking opportunities as a Frontend Developer where I can contribute to building clean, scalable, and user-centered digital products. With a solid foundation in modern JavaScript frameworks, responsive design, and API integration, I bring a problem-solving mindset and a passion for creating intuitive user interfaces. I'm particularly interested in teams that value collaboration, code quality, and continuous learning.

Professional Summary

Creative and detail-oriented Frontend Developer with hands-on experience in building responsive web and desktop applications using modern technologies like HTML5, CSS3, JavaScript, React.js, and Node.js. Proven ability to translate Figma designs into functional UI, collaborate in agile teams, and solve user experience challenges. Passionate about clean code, reusability, and performance optimization.
